

Uncertain Futures-University of Waterloo Research on and through CJI's Stride Program

Women who are or have been incarcerated in one of Canada's federal prisons for women need more support if they are to successfully re-integrate into the community after leaving prison.

To read the rest of this article please click here Uncertain Futures: Women Leaving Prison and Re-entering Community